Consent | Marketing

- We hate spam as much as you do. Our communications will always be professional, industry-orientated, and informative.
- We operate an 'Opt Out' policy when customers engage with our services.
- Clear unsubscribe details are always shown on our e-communications.
- All unsubscribes are actioned and those individuals will not receive further e-marketing from us.
- If you are a registered user of any of our services, your personal contact information may be used by us and other promotional merchandise industry related businesses carefully selected by us to contact you in writing, by e-mail or telephone to offer you products, offers and services that we believe are directly related to the promotional merchandise marketplace.
- We also hold data on distributor and supplier companies and individual contacts within the promotional merchandise industry who we feel would benefit from our services or who may wish to supply our customers.
- Much of our e-marketing is sent through MailChimp where we transfer & store your business email address and track interactions.
- Data we pass to Mailchimp for e-marketing purposes is protected by the terms on their Privacy Policy. <https://mailchimp.com/legal/privacy>
- You can opt out of receiving contact for marketing purposes at any time. Please write to the Data Protection Officer, Dynamic Image Ltd, The Hub, Fowler Avenue, Farnborough, GU14 7JP UK.

Legitimate Interests Assessment

- The corporate and individual personal data we hold of companies is to provide services or information to, or requested from those companies.
- This information is used for business to business purposes only.
- Our communications are only related to the promotional merchandise industry.
- We only use people's data in ways they would reasonably expect and which have a minimal privacy impact.

Purpose test: Any marketing or services provided by us, or our third-party contacts would only ever contain information that should be of genuine business interest to that company.

Necessity test: To provide requested services, and to keep industry companies informed of news, events, industry products and our services it is necessary to hold company and contact data.

Balancing test: The individual's interests override the legitimate interest. All individuals have right of access, right to erasure and right to restrict processing, in addition to any rights within General Data Protection Regulations (GDPR) and Privacy and Electronic Communications Regulations (PECR)

Cookie Policy

The website services provided us use cookies which may collect information and statistics about all visitors to our websites.

What are 'Cookies'?

A cookie is a text file saved to your computer's hard disk by a website so it can remember who you are. Cookies only record pages of a website that have been visited by your computer and the duration of the visit to those pages. These remain on your computer until you leave the website and allow you to carry information across pages of the website without having to re-enter information, for example when putting items into a shopping basket, or logging in to a site. Some cookies will stay on your computer after leaving the website. For a more detailed explanation, see the types of cookies below.

Session Cookie

Also called a transient cookie, a cookie that is erased when you close the web browser. The session cookie is stored in temporary memory and is not retained after the browser is closed. Session cookies do not collect information from your computer. They typically will store information in the form of a session identification that does not personally identify the user.

Persistent Cookie

Also called a permanent cookie, or a stored cookie, a cookie that is stored on your hard drive until it expires (persistent cookies are set with expiration dates) or until you delete the cookie. Persistent cookies are used to collect identifying information about the user, such as web surfing behavior or user preferences for a specific website.

Privacy and Electronic Communications (EC Directive) (Amendment) Regulations 2011.

- This directive relates to website users' consent of Cookies created by a website.
- The Directive states that a website's users must knowingly give consent to the use of Cookies on their computers.
- For more detailed information about cookies, how they work on your computer and how to delete them or allow them to remain on your computer, please visit www.ico.gov.uk/cookiesadvice
